we want microsoft stop blackmailing people all around the world. we will kill it if we can we will help it if we must. it is not a company based on good products, it's a company based on cheating and lying clients. they pay hackers to crack it's products so that anyone can use it. then, they come to the important companies and give them two choices: sign a contract to microsoft or go to jail. maybe you can stop them (honestly i don't think you can)
